What are the educational benefits of attending the Design Tour?

- For most of the 20th century and into the 21st Century, New York and the USA have been considered to be the centre of the Art and Design world.
- Art and Design collections in New York and Washington DC display the best the world has to offer, both of a contemporary and historical nature

- This tour is designed to allow students to feel a passionate connection to what they have already studied in class and extend and further their previous knowledge

Architectural Design

Architecture will also be an important component of the tour. Students will be able to visit a number of historic and contemporary architectural sites, including Frank Lloyd Wright's "Falling Waters"
